YOEMEN IN WIN FROM TAYLOR

Breeding and Hrozek Score Touchdowns In 13 to 0 Victory Friday

Clinton Breeding and Ladis Hrozek superb backs for Coach Wood's 1934 Yoemen made the Taylor Ducks dizzy Friday night and enabled Cameron to pick the ducks for their 4th successive victory of the season.

With a fast line together with some new and brilliantly executed plays the Yoemen had no difficulty in winning. In the first half the game was a see-saw affair. In the third quarter Breeding in a sweeping end run coupled with as neat a piece of broken field running as has been seen in many moons stepped 35 yards for a touchdown. Late in the fourth quarter Ladis Hrozek, fastest back seen this year, in an almost identical play as in the third quarter touchdown, circled the Duck's left end and placed the ball behind the goal. Gus Evans the lanky end turned in a whale of a game while Simmie Smith deserves much credit along with Captain Gillis. The play by play report:

Taylor kicked off to Cameron's 20 and Breeding returns to the 30.

C. I. Breeding picked up 3 yards at left tackle. Taylor penalized for off-sides.

1. After a fumble Breeding plowed over right tackle, but fails to gain. Stopped by Douglas and Ripper.

3. Breeding kicked to Taylor 23 yd. line where it is recovered by Hrozek

His Second Fight

Here is Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, belligerent Texas senator, who now has had two scraps with Senator Joe Moore of Greenville to his credit. In Octo- Greenville, Texas. In October, 1933, Holbrook tangled with Moore, and again during the present extra session, Holbrook struck Moore a glancing blow on the cheek after a "lie" was passed. The last fist-swinging resulted when Moore stated that a $3,600 appropriation for two clerks was "a piece of political pie" for Holbrook. "Any man who says that is a liar," shouted the Galveston senator. They both advanced, Holbrook swung and connected and then they were separated and escorted to their seats. (Texas News Photos.)

MRS. LOUISE NOLTE IS BURIED IN BEN ARNOLD

Mrs. Louise Nolte, 83, Texas pioneer, died at the home of her son, Judge O. C. Nolte in Ben Arnold at 2:45 a. m. Monday October 22, 1934.

She had been in declining health for several months. Her condition became grave on Sunday preceding her death. The end came in the early morning of the following day.

Mrs. Nolte had made her home in Ben Arnold with her son for about one year, coming to Milam county from Gatesville in Coryell county where she had resided with another son since moving from her old home in Austin county near Bellville.

When news came of the death of Mrs. Nolte it brought sorrow to the hearts of hundreds who have known for many years of this great pioneer woman and her family of sons.

Born In Germany

Mrs. Louise Nolte was born on January 28, 1851 in Kremmen, Germany, the daughter of pioneer German parents, and before her marriage was Miss Louise Reinicke. With her parents she came to America in about the year 1857. The family settled in Austin county near Bellville. She was married to George C. Nolte, also a native of Germany and a Confederate soldier, in Bellville following the close of the Civil War.

To them were born eight children.

Joan Crawford and Clark Gable Give Film Audiences Something to Cheer About

With "Chained" the new Metro-Goldyn-Mayer picture to open at the Cameron Theatre Sunday, October 28, Joan Crawford and Clark Gable win new laurels for their already glistening crowns.

For "Chained" is an excellent picture, expertly mounted, directed and acted.

Clarence Brown who gave us "Sadie McKee," Joan's last—is also responsible for the splendid direction and pace of the new picture.

As Dianne, modern Manhattan miss, Joan Crawford brings a new and vivid characterization to the screen. Clark Gable holds up his end with more than sufficient skill and charm as Mike, likable young rancher in South America.

The supporting cast is equally fine with Otto Kruger as Mr. Field, the "other man" in the case; Stuart Erwin in the role of Johnnie, wise-cracking friend; Una O'Conner as the sympathetic companion, and Marjorie Gateson in the role of Mrs. Field.

Chief Honors to Stars

But excellent as all other phases of the production are, chief honors go to the co-stars who, brilliantly cast, turn in performances that compare well with the finest screen characterizations of the year.

George Folsey outdoes himself with the photography, and the same thing can well be said of the striking Adrian gowns, which are much in prominence.

The story was written especially for the screen by Edgar Selwyn and was adapted by John Lee Mahin.

Fair Bird Champ

ONLY RELIEF ROLL PATIENTS REGARDED

There will be no new jobs on the federal and state relief program this fall and winter, said Billie Clark Administrator.

Under the present program only those on the direct relief rolls will be regarded. There is no provision for employment of the jobless.

If any work is given it will be to those who are on direct relief and are real patients of the government. Because one happens to be out of employment does not help. He must be in dire need and on the relief roll to work.

Mr. Clark explained that the present program is not a work program but a relief program only.

CAMERON STUDENTS ATTEND DALLAS FAIR

Twenty-two members of the Cameron Future Farmers Chapter, together with W. C. Weise, high school principal, R. M. Connor, bus driver, and E. D. Parnell, advisor of the local chapter, attended the Future Farmers Convention held at the State Fair Saturday and Sunday. There were 4,555 F. F. A. members in attendance at Dallas.

The group left Cameron late Friday and returned Sunday afternoon. Saturday and Sunday morning were spent seeing various sights at the Fair.

John Calvin Haygood, local F. F. A. President, served as major in the Future Farmer State Band that led the Saturday afternoon parade and that played for the S. M. U.-Oklahoma A. & M. football game.

Robert Sloan Ryan played in the band together with almost a hundred other F F. A. members thruout Texas. Gus Evans accompanied Haygood and Ryan to Dallas on the trin, but did not take part in the F. F. A. activities.

It was necessary for the band members to come by rail, since they played in the Cameron Band at the Taylor-Cameron game Friday night.

B D. WOODS BURIED IN MILANO MONDAY

Benjamin D. Woods, 72, pioneer Texan and resident of Milano for a half century, died in a hospital in Cameron at 9:40 Sunday morning, October 21, 1934.

Mr. Woods was a native of Alabama and came to Texas many years ago linking his destiny with that of the new territory and his fellow pioneers. When he came to Texas he settled in Brazos county and there married Miss Addie Sparks. They later moved to Milano in Milam county where they established their home and reared a family of nine children, eight sons and one daughter.

Surviving him are: Mrs. B. D. Woods, his widow; eight sons as follows: Henry, Welcome, Homer, Ray, Lloyd, Hudson, Grover and Alver Woods. A daughter, Jessie Woods, died when a small child and is buried in Milano cemetery. He is also survived by three brothers: Wesley Woods of Liberty; Wise Woods and Tim Woods of Milano, and one sister, Mrs. Julia Williams of Austin. Five grand children survive him. They are: Jessie, Lloyd, Jr., and J. D. Woods, children of Lloyd Woods at Chriesman; and Perry D. and Lola Mae Woods, children of Henry Woods at Milano.

Funeral services were held in the afternoon of Monday October 22 with interment in Milano cemetery. Rev. Crone of the Christian church in Rockdale conducted the services at the home. The Woodmen of the World had charge of the services at the grave and from the lodge were pall bearers.

Mr. Woods had engaged in farming and stock raising at Milano for many years. His sons now own a large body of land in that section. In his death the county loses one of its best pioneer citizens and hundreds extend their sympathy.

B. F. Loftin who lives on a rural route out of Rosebud in the northern edge of Milam county, was in Cameron the past week end. He recently became a reader of the Herald and appreciates the publication. The publisher welcomes him to the list.

W. S. Donaldson who lives in the good black land belt in the Ben Arnold section, is among the large number of farmers who will read the Herald as a new reader for 1935. Mr. Donaldson was in Cameron Saturday and was a visitor in the plant of this newspaper. The publisher welcomes him to the list.

Marlow Farmers Hear Discussion Parasite Control

How to prevent and control the common parasites of poultry in Milam county was the subject for discussion at the Marlow evening school meeting last week. Twenty three farmers and farm women were present. E. D. Parnell, Cameron Vocational Teacher, is in charge of the school and ten other meetings are to be held with various subjects to be selected by the farmers.

Blue bugs, red mites, lice, scaly leg mites and red bugs were the parasites discussed by those present. Mis Bertha Fae Strange, home demonstration agent, and Mrs. E. D. Parnell were visitors. The next meeting will be used in a discussion of the control and prevention of the common disease of farm cattle.

Use of Commercial fertilizers, pruning of fruit trees, soil conservation and control of garden and orchard insects and diseases are other subjects that have been suggested by farmers for discussion.

Blowout Protection? Sure! But—

is 5½ times more necessary to safety

Your big worry should be skidding—the cause of 5½ times more accidents than blowouts. Smooth tires skid 77% farther, other new tires skid 14 to 19% farther, than new "G-3" Goodyear All-Weathers (proved by 8400 tests). Since this "Goodyear Margin of Safety" costs nothing extra, get it now—ride safely during the slippery driving months.

45% More Miles of Real Non-Skid because "G-3" All-Weather Tread is flatter, wider, heavier, tougher. Blowout-Protected in EVERY Ply because Patented Supertwist Cord is up to 61% more elastic—absorbs shocks!

For a GOOD Cup of Coffee

You start with Admiration Coffee, of course,—oven-fresh Admiration Coffee, to be exact.

How may you be sure the Admiration you buy is oven-fresh?

Admiration is now vacuum packed in glass jars to insure its reaching you just as fresh as when it left the roasting oven. And what a vacuum! Scientists have demonstrated that a vacuum of 29.5 inches can be pulled in a glass jar container, while it has not been possible to produce a vacuum above 26.8 in a tin can. Thirty inches would be the perfect commercial vacuum. We never were convinced that vacuum packing in tin cans was successful.

So, as usual, Admiration Coffee adopts the better way, in providing a container most efficient.

If you use coffee rapidly, or will keep it in a tight jar, you can still buy Admiration in cellophane wrapped bags, —at a saving of a few cents per pound. The same delicious Admiration you find in the vacuum jars.

Taking Wealth From Sea Water

For years scientists have known that a billion pounds of sea-water contains nearly two and a half pounds of gold, not to mention other valuable substances too numerous to be listed.

The dream of extracting precious metals from the waters of the world has been cherished for years and if some practical process could be developed, gold from the salt seas would add three million billion dollars to the gold stocks of the world. This would about end the gold standard!

In fact, science has succeeded in extracting small quantities of the precious yellow metal but the process cost so much as to make it prohibitive. Near Wilmington, N. C., a plant which is successfully extracting bromine from the sea, has succeeded in precipitating a tiny nugget, no larger than a pin head. The cost, it is said, figures $350 an ounce or ten times the present price of gold. Earlier, in 1920, a German chemist was the first to succeed in the task which he abandoned as impractical and hopeless.

Land-lubbers rarely stop to think of the immense wealth of the oceans which cover most of the globe's surface. In very dilute forms can be found silver, radium, platinum, and we presume, some of all that exists on the face of the earth. Should industry and science combine to develop a profitable process of extraction man could get almost anything from the great waters.

one daughter and seven sons. Six sons survive as follows: William M. Nolte of Bellville; J. F. Nolte, Gatesville; George Nolte of Wilson in Lynn county; C. F. Nolte and Judge O. C. Nolte of Ben Arnold; and A. J. Nolte of Kansas City, Missouri. There are 26 living grand children, 31 great grand children and 3 great great grand children.

Husband Noted Pioneer

George C. Nolte, her husband, a Confederate soldier, was a friend and associate of Sam Houston, liberator of Texas. He came to America about 1850 from Germany. He was a cabinet maker by trade and followed that occupation in this country. In a number of the old homes in Washington county may yet be found pieces of furniture he made, one being the desk of a pioneer physician, now dead. The old residence he built still stands at Bellville in Austin county.

Was Friend of Houston

Mr. Nolte was a friend and associate of Sam Houston. In the closing days of the Civil War he left the service under Federal parole from Vicksburg where the Confederates were forced to surrender. He was very ill at the time and rations consisted of one ear of parched corn a day. Prof. C. F. W. Reinicke, a brother of Mrs. Nolte, also a Confederate soldier, left Vicksburg in advance of Mr Nolte and told the family on his arrival in Austin County that he did not expect Mr. Nolte to reach home because of his illness. They had no means of travel except walking. Mr. Nolte recovered and left for Texas. He went direct to Huntsville to see Sam Houston where he remained for a few days to rest up from the long journey. General Houston sent his son with Nolte by conveyance to Hill's Ferry on the Brazos river at that time located in Austin county but now in Waller county. Professor Reinicke, a musician, was also a native of Germany and a brother in-law of Mr. Nolte. The pioneer George C. Nolte died in 1889 and his body is buried in Austin county.

Mrs. Nolte Last of Her Family

Mrs. Louise Nolte who was before her marriage, Miss Reinicke, was the last surviving member of this pioneer German family. Following the death of her husband, like many of the pioneer mothers of that day, the responsibility of her family and affairs brought to her heavy burdens. She reared her family and until 1909 lived in the old Nolte home in Austin county. In that year she came to Gatesville to make her home with her son J. F. Nolte. Except for the past year she had spent most of her remaining years in Coryell county.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday afternoon in the home of her son, Judge O. C. Nolte in Ben Arnold with Rev. O. C. Acrey, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Cameron conducting the services. Many came to pay their tribute to this pioneer mother whose example of living and contribution to the period in which she lived remains a heritage to many. The body was buried in the Ben Arnold cemetery with hundreds of friends and neighbors of this pioneer family assembled in a common bond of sorrow.

Pall bearers were: H. N. Yardley, Harvey Carmichael, B. G. Rice, Ed Strickler, Willis Vogelsang and Walter Kosel. The Leland Green Funeral Home directed funeral arrangements.

Farm Rodent Control Talks Are Made To Cameron Students

Members of the first and third year Vocational Agriculture classes heard special talks on the control of farm rodents Friday morning when Floyd W. Dawson, field man for the U. S. Biological Survey, talked to the boys at the invitation of E. D. Parnell, teacher. Dawson told the boys how to trap and to poison gophers and rats and gave practical instructions on keeping rodent losses low.

Red squill, bariu mcarbonate, phosphorous pastes, strychnine, arsenic and thallium are the principal rat poisons, Dawson says, with red squill and barium carbonate being the two most widely recommended. Gophers may be trapped or poinsoned, he said, with the trapping by use of the Maccabbe trap being the most common method.

Many of the Vocational students will do rodent control work as a part of their practice work in agriculture, Parnell reports.

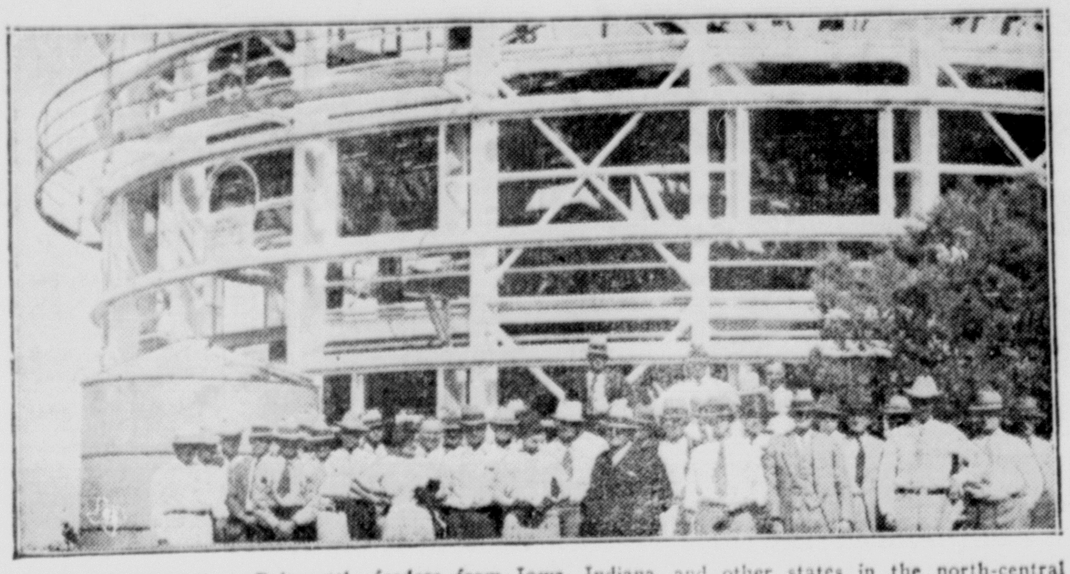
Governor and Cattlemen From Corn States Marvel at Texas



About thirty Corn Belt cattle feeders from Iowa, Indiana, and other states in the north-central section of America attended the recent Highland Fair and cattle sales at María, Texas, in the Big Bend country, and gathered in the Davis Mountains to inspect construction of the famous McDonald observatory, now in process of erection on top of Mount Locke. The picture above was taken there. The observatory visit was part of a trip over the Big Bend country and proved surprisingly interesting to these men and women from other states. Governor Warren T. McCray of Indiana, in center wearing black suit, said he expects to bring his wife next year and spend a vacation in the Davis Mountains. Governor McCray predicted this area will eventually become one of the most popular vacation areas in America, when highway systems and parks are completed. (Texas News Photos.)
